

ELIZABETH ALBERTSON

Elizabeth Albertson co-founded Live the Life Ministries with her husband Richard in 1998. After graduating from Florida State University in 1988, she and Richard married and moved to Washington, DC to work in the George H. W. Bush Administration. Elizabeth worked as an Administrative Assistant to the U.S. Secretary of Energy. Since moving back to Florida, Elizabeth was a “stay at home mom” for many years. When her children got older, she served in several part time church educator positions and was the “number one volunteer” at Live the Life until joining the staff in 2016. Elizabeth and Richard have five children and live in Tallahassee, FL.
